

Payment methods

Amazon Pay

With Amazon Pay you can use the information from your Amazon account to complete purchases. Just click the "Amazon Pay" button on our shopping basket page and login to your Amazon account. No need to re-enter credit card numbers or shipping addresses. Your financial information is not shared or stored with uhrcenter. The A-to-z Guarantee ensures the condition and timely delivery of your purchase when you checkout using Amazon Pay.

Apple Pay

Pay at uhrcenter in a modern, convenient, and absolutely secure way with Apple Pay. To do this, enter your account information once in the free Apple Wallet app on your compatible Apple device. You can use Apple Pay with both a credit card and your giro card. When checking out, simply select Apple Pay as the payment method and confirm your purchase via Face ID or Touch ID.

Cash on delivery

You can pay the postman directly at your door or collect the parcel at the post office. We charge this service with an additional cash on delivery fee of € 6,00. Cash on delivery is available for orders up to € 500,00 with standard shipping and German delivery address.

Credit card

We accept Visa, Mastercard and American Express. Via a secure SSL connection your credit card data will be transmitted securely. Your credit card data will not be stored by uhrcenter. The amount invoiced will be provisionally debited to your credit card account when you place the order and debited once the goods have left our warehouse.

Direct debit

With Klarna Direct Debit, you can let Klarna collect outstanding payments from your bank account. Connect your bank account for future one click payments. The payment method direct debit is only available in case of a positive credit assessment by Klarna.

giropay

giropay is the joint online payment method by German banks. As the digital sister of the girocard, giropay enables easy payment directly from the current account. Payments are debited from there and refunds are credited. With giropay, you decide how you want to pay: with a username and password after a one-time registration. Or without registration, via online transfer and TAN procedure from your bank.

Google Pay

You can pay particularly quickly, easily, and securely at uhrcenter with Google Pay. First install the free Google Pay app on your compatible Android smartphone and enter your personal data. A Google account is required for this. Google Pay already works with many debit and credit cards in Germany. You can also add any bank account via PayPal in the Google Pay app.

Online bank transfer

Direct payment via online banking. With Sofort you can pay easily and securely with your usual online banking login data and save 3% advance payment discount. No registration required.

Pay later with Klarna

Payment on invoice is available for delivery addresses within Germany and Austria. The delivery address has to be your private street address and must be the same as the billing address. You will transfer the invoice amount reduced by the amount of possible returns within 30 days to our partner Klarna. We reserve the right to exclude payment on invoice for certain orders and refer to other payment options.

Payment in advance

We reward you for placing your trust in us with a 3% advance payment discount. You transfer the invoice amount less advance payment discount in advance. Shipping will take place as soon as our account has been credited.

PayPal

Send payments easily and quickly: PayPal is the fast and secure way to pay. The amount invoiced will be provisionally debited to your PayPal account when you place the order and debited once the goods have left our warehouse.

Slice it with Klarna

The flexible way of shopping on the internet. With Klarna part payment you decide every month how much you want to pay. You always get your goods delivered before you have to pay them, and all of your purchases will be combined on one monthly bill. This applies to all online stores where you shop with Klarna account. Please note that the minimum monthly rate for all purchases together, but even for a single purchase is always 1/24 of the total amount but is, however, always at least € 6,95.
